Well, it really has been a busy week starting with the owl visit, family learning for second language learners on Tuesday and then the trip to the war memorial where the children were so respectful, ending with a wonderful art workshop for Badger class (more later!). I think that we really need a good sleep, thank goodness it is the weekend.-

Attendance

The best class at coming to school was Badger Class. Well done to them! Thanks to all the parents for their support in making sure the children come to school!

Marley

Marley will be taken home by Ryan because he is so kind and is really trying to speak more.

Golden Book

Well done to these children who have been mentioned in the Golden Book this week; Sinead, Muazzama, Axelle, Aisha, Libby, Martin, Charlie, Chloe, Sean, Sky, Nayab, Ebony, Leandro, Rachel Spcier, Lucas B, Ben Bedford, Samantha, Jessica, Arsalan and Ocean.

Colouring competition

The winners will be announced on Monday! The school council displayed these for me today.

Challenge4Life

Just start chopping up some fresh fruit every morning and sprinkling it on top of your child’s cereal. The children will look forward to seeing what they are going to have every day. This idea was chosen by the school council.

I thought you might like to read some writing about the owls and the trip to the war memorial written by Badger class.

Samantha

On Monday the Night Owls came to Marsh School to show us their owls. They told us their names. We had our pictures taken with Zippy the Barn Owl. Later the owls were flying and Oscar crept up to the lady.

Jessica

On Monday the Night Owls came to Marsh School to show us their owls. We had to be very quiet in the hall. I had my picture taken with Zippy the Barn Owl. We saw some of the owls fly. One of the owls didn't do what they lady said!

Ben B

On Wednesday morning we went to the war memorial. We went to remember all the people who have died in the wars. We stood still for 2 minutes and Georgia and Malachi put the wreath of poppies down. I was feeling sad.

Have a good week!
