

Minutes of Asian Ladies Forum March 24th 9:15

This meeting was held on March 24th at 9:15 in the staff room. The Asian ladies' forum is a sub group of the main parents' forum.

Mrs. Morrisson unfortunately had to leave the meeting as she had to take a child to the hospital as he came into school with a cut on his face. She explained what the meeting was for and informed the group that she would not normally stay for the whole of the session as it is often easier to talk without her but she would normally start the session and come back later.

This meeting was well attended.

Ideas that came out of the meeting:

1. Could there be a homework club in school to help the children complete their homework as sometimes it is hard to understand what to do and sometimes there is not enough space.
2. We need to inform parents more about attendance so they know what is authorised and what isn't. One parent wanted to know about religious holidays and how this affected their child's attendance. She was also worried because she got letters about her child's attendance being low.

3. Two parents were worried about their child's speech and wanted to know if they were getting help in school.

Mrs. Nawaz passed the ideas on to Mrs. Morrisson and they were received really well.

1. She will be looking into setting up a homework club.
2. She will bring information about attendance into the meeting although not about individual children.
3. She will talk with Mrs. Quantrill about getting in touch with parents about speech and language
4. We are going to have some training for parents about helping their child with speech and language in the near future.
